Dedication

Saint Joseph's has lost one of its trusted and loyal sons. Cognizant of his dedicated service, we are dedicating this 1962 Yearbook to the memory of Rudolf L. Volz.

Mr. Volz lost his life on June 12, 1961, following a one car accident near Rensselaer. Born on July 13, 1931, he was the son of Rudolf L. Volz, Sr., and Elsie Volz. He married Miss Elizabeth Geanne Zollinger in Louisville, Kentucky on September 2, 1954.

Mr. Volz graduated from Louisville's Flaget High School in 1949 and entered Saint Joseph's College the following September. He graduated from Saint Joseph's in 1953 and after spending two years in the army attended graduate school at the University of Louisville. He then became alumni director and assistant admissions counselor at Saint Joseph's College.

Dear Seniors,

On behalf of the Trustees, Faculty and Staff of the College, I wish to congratulate you graduates of 1962 and to assure you that all of us join in your joy of accomplishment.

Through the intercession of St. Joseph, we beg for each one of you, as participants in the modern struggle between the forces of good and evil, God's constant protection and boundless grace and abiding love.

We are confident that your college career has prepared you to become stalwart leaders of men for God and country, and we are equally hopeful that you will cling to the ideals of your moments of high inspiration, thus assuring solid success, temporal and eternal, in all your working and praying and living.

A 1938 graduate of St. Joseph's, Mr. Richard Scharf was appointed Athletic Director this year. A winner of 11 varsity letters during his student years at St. Joseph's, Mr. Scharf has served as head football, baseball, and basketball coach. He is chairman of the St. Joseph's physical education department and a doctoral candidate at Indiana University.

A husky, determined man met the Pumas as new head football coach this year. The man — Ed Dwyer — a 1957 graduate of Purdue came to St. Joseph's in 1959 as assistant football coach and head wrestling coach. Dwyer holds a master's degree from Purdue and was assistant coach there before he came to St. Joe.

Jim Holstein, former member of the Fort Wayne Pistons, first came to St. Joseph's in 1959 as assistant football and basketball coach and head baseball coach. This was his first year as head basketball coach. A 1952 graduate of the University of Cincinnati, he also served this year as head golf coach and assistant football coach.

Don Merki returned this year to his alma mater as varsity baseball coach. Along with his diamond knowledge came his experience and ability on the hardwood court. The versatile Merki, a holder of St. Joseph's and ICC basketball records and a 1953-55 member of the all-ICC squad, served this year as freshman basketball and football coach and assistant varsity basketball coach. He was also director of the St. Joseph's intramural program.

John Mirocha plunges over the line for a Puma tally against Valpo.

Going someplace, John?

However, this Sycamore isn't going anywhere either with Dick Schreiber (71) hitting him from the front and Joe Vlasaty (76) hanging on from behind.

John George (84) and Rich Ostrowski (63) stop a Crusader just short of a first down.

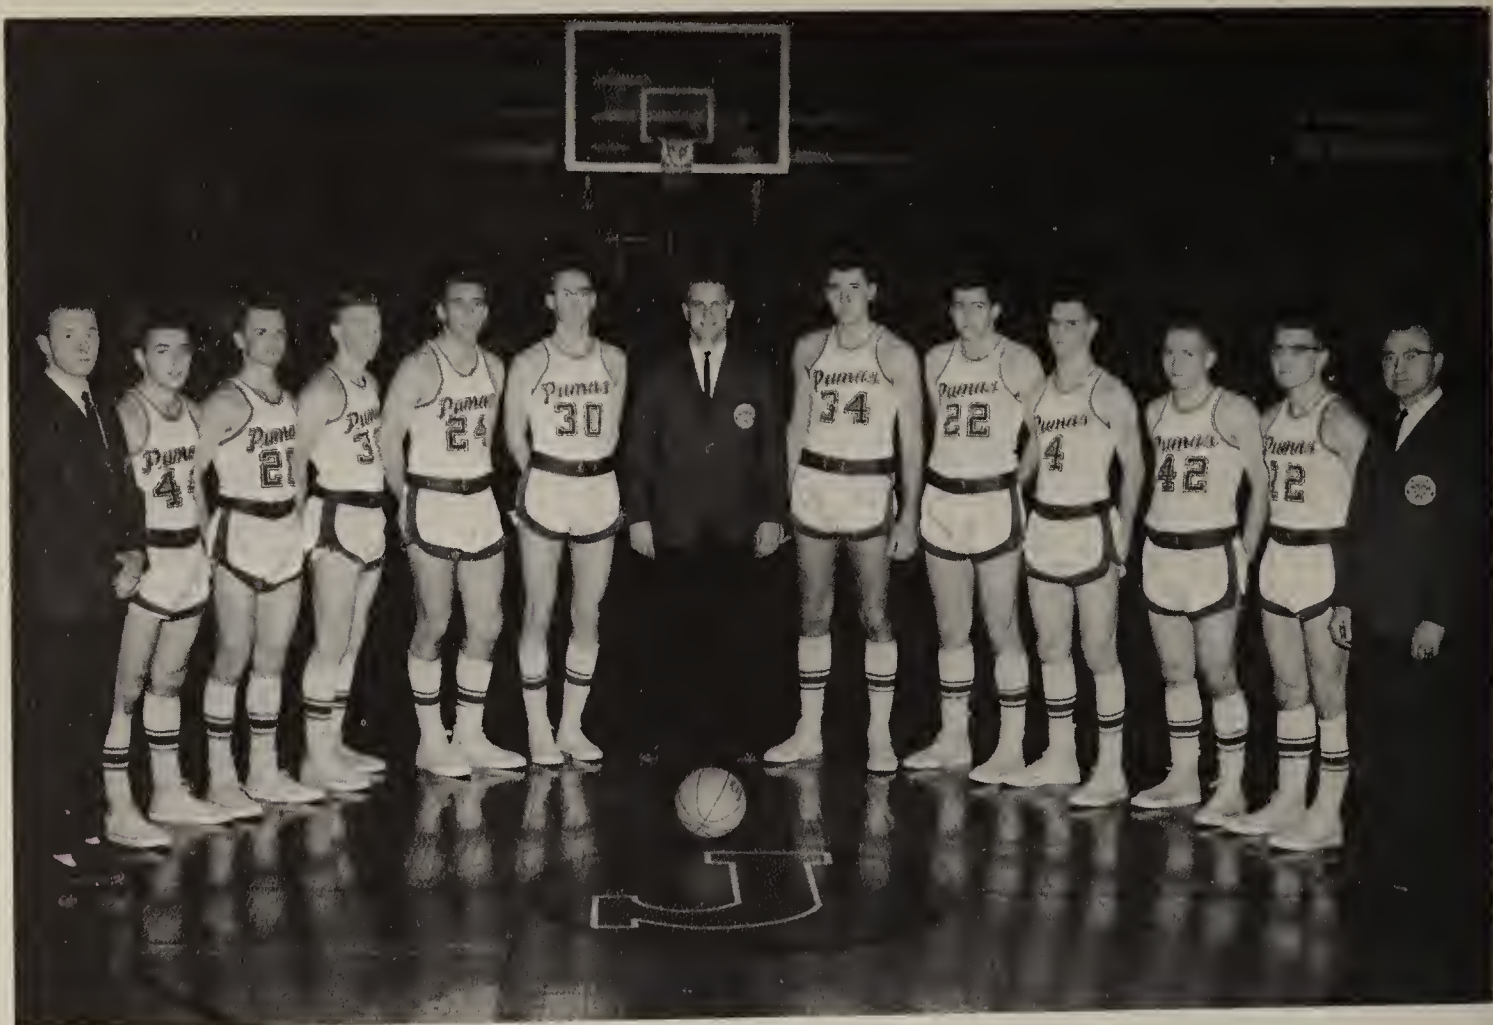

The 1961 Puma football team did not compile a glorious record. In fact, it did not even compile a mediocre one. However, and this is very significant, however, it was a team that just could not get the timely break. Long drives ended in frustration within the ten-yard line. Punts into the wind sailed backward. Fate, misfortune, and rookie mistakes combined to hamper the Pumas.

Nevertheless, one of the unfortunate aspects of sports is that the record does not indicate the performance. The 1-7 record of the 1961 St. Joseph's football team was not much to be proud of. The team was.

An Indiana State back finds tough going as he hits the Puma line.

Basketball-wise it was a slow year. The Pumas, under the direction of a new mentor, finished the 1961-62 season with a 7-14 record and only one win in the conference. It was also a heartbreaking year. Eight of the Pumas' losses were by margins of ten points or less, including two "hard luck" overtime losses.

Yet, despite the disheartening losses, the hardwood Pumas found heartening support from die-hard fans who backed their team to the wire, coming back week after week, game after game to pack the fieldhouse.

Under the direction of Mr. Donald Merki, the intramural program has been revamped, widened, and made more accessible to the student. This new atmosphere has inaugurated an increased interest in the realm of competitive student activity. Almost every sport is now included in the program and as a result every student is given a chance to participate.

Brothers

FATHER ALBERT WUEST
Director of Brothers

Much of the work done on Saint Joseph's campus is done by the lay Brothers of the Society of the Precious Blood. These are men who have espoused themselves to the Society without vows. Their tasks are legion and varied, and their dedication obvious from the quantity and quality of the work produced.

BROTHER HENRY LUKE

BROTHER JOHN MARLING

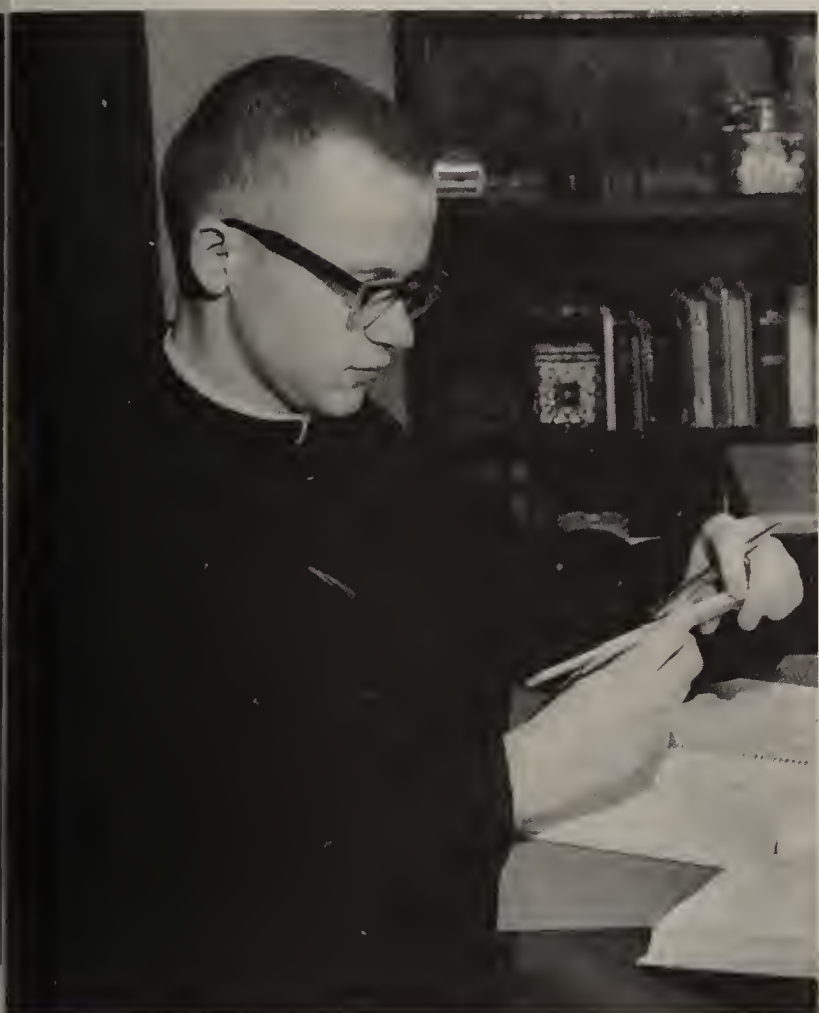

Brother Henry, the senior Brother has been a member of the Society for over forty years. At present he has the job of trying to keep the campus beautiful. Brother John, also a veteran in the Society, is a full-time professor of mathematics and physics.

In his capacity as assistant to the Dean of Men, Brother Gerard has charge of the operation and maintenance of Raleigh Hall.

Brother James Brown is a full time student at Saint Joseph's. A Math-Physics major, he is part of a move by the Society to bolster its teaching force

The soft Kentucky drawl often heard in the electric shop is that of Brother Joseph Minch. Together with a lay electrician he runs that noble establishment.

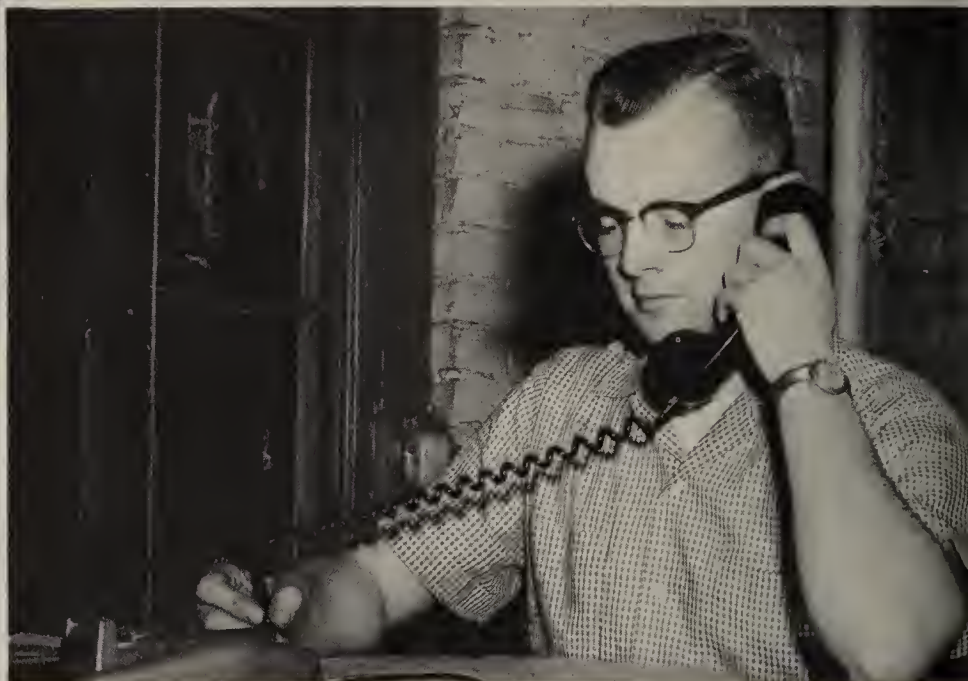

BROTHER JOSEPH MINCH

BROTHER PHILIP BUHRMAN

Brother Philip is the director of the Processing Office, a combination Print Shop and Mailing Room. He is also an officer of the Parents' Club's National Board.

BROTHER ALPHONSE STAAB

The red Mo-Ped of Brother Alphonse can often be seen on campus as he supervises the various activities of the Janitorial corps. Distributing materials from the warehouse is also part of his job.

BROTHER LAWRENCE CONVERY

Here is Brother at his familiar post behind the desk in the Dean of Men's Office. He assists Father Shaefer and also finds time to care for the campus stables.

BROTHER FRANCIS WERLING

Brother Francis works down in the powerhouse and plumbing shop. There he keeps constant watch on all the machinery that supplies us with heat and hot water.

BROTHER JOSEPH M. HERZO

BROTHER PAUL WERLING

The College automotive fleet is kept in shape by Brother Paul. His work on car maintenance keeps the wheels rolling. Brother Joseph Mary was a supervisor in the fieldhouse for a while, but is now on the lawn gang. Among his other duties is the raising and striking of colors. Many in the religious community wear cassocks which were made right here at the campus tailor shop. The capable custodian of this establishment is Brother Conrad. Brother John is in charge of the cattle farm. From his domain come the beefs and steaks for our tables. Brothers Fidelis and Benedict are not pictured. They are respectively the locksmith and Brother sacristan.

Seminarians

There is on campus a group of forty-one young men who are students for the Priesthood in the Society of the Precious Blood. They spend two or three years of their training here, at Saint Joseph's. After this they go on to spend one year at Saint Mary's Novitiate in Burkettsville, Ohio, and six years at the major seminary in Carthagen, Ohio. Then they are ordained and have one more year of pastoral studies at the university of Detroit. It takes a long time to become a priest, but time passes fast in the busy seminary routine and few priests there are who do not regard their seminary days as enjoyable.

Bob Kenny, Jim Marchal, and Steve Gossin.

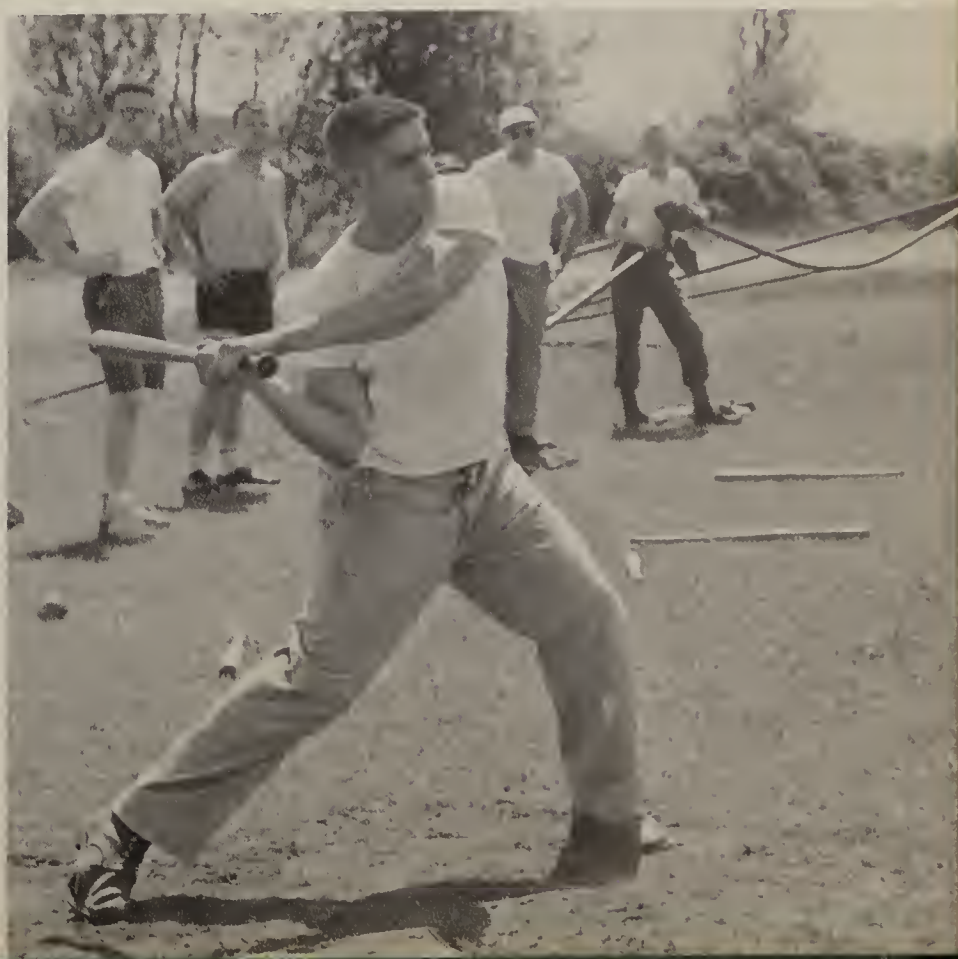

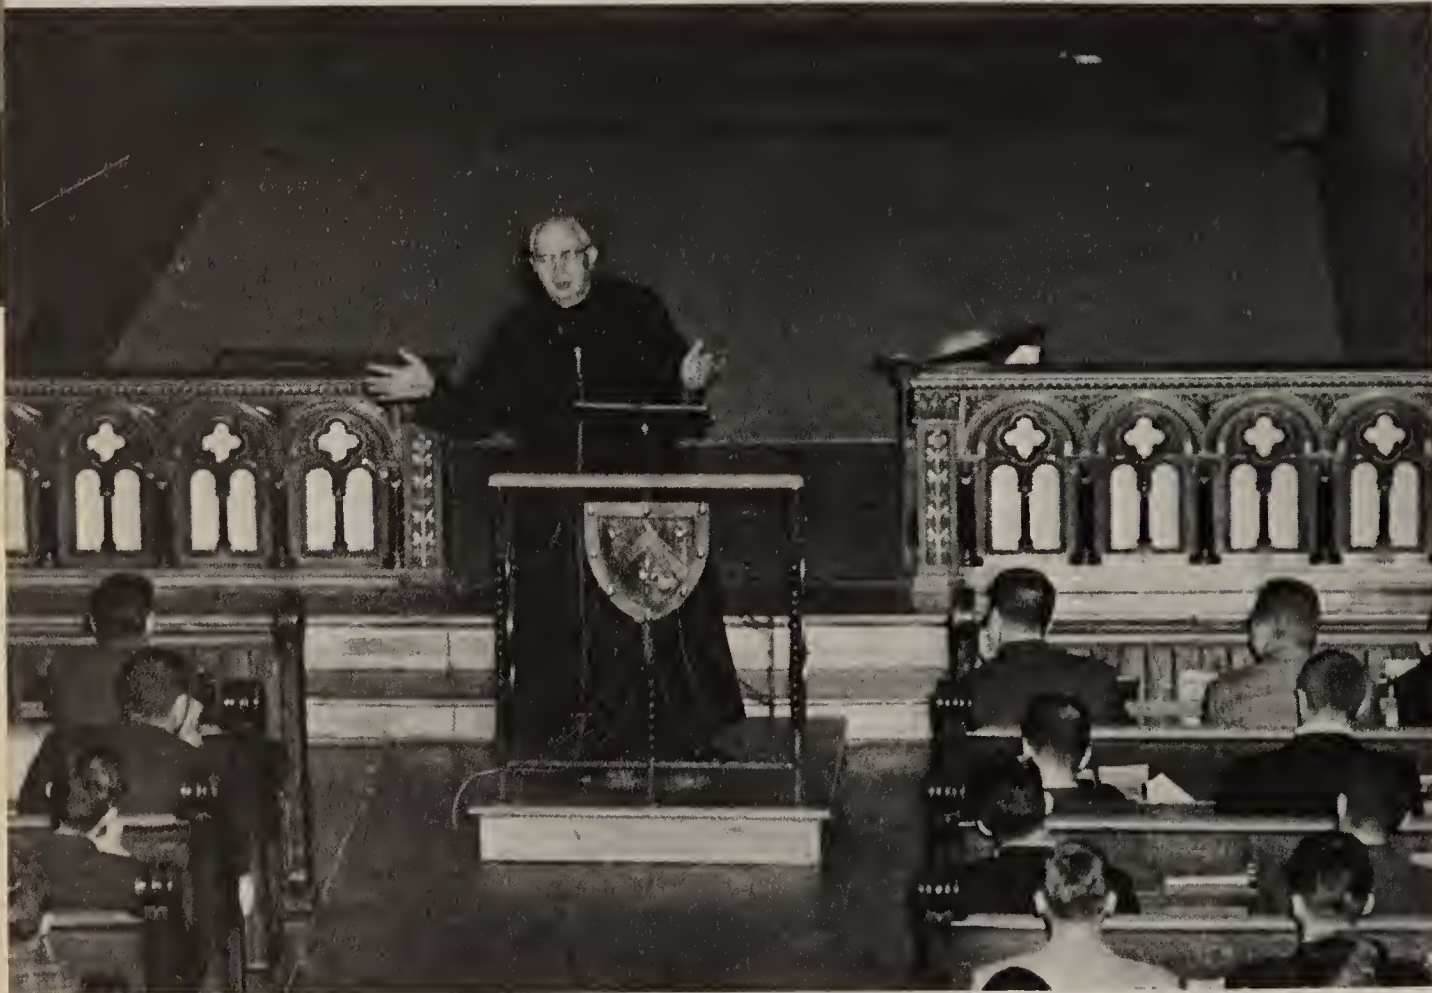

The position of the seminarian on campus is similar to that of the priest in the world, he must be "in it but not of it." The seminarians participate in the intellectual advantages of a college campus and also in as many of the cultural opportunities as are compatible with their schedule. They will often be found to be busy about many things, for the seminary program, as can be seen from these and the preceding pages, consists of a wide variety of religious, academic, and physical activities.

However, amidst this hustle and bustle of action, the seminarian must strive to be at all times conscious of his goal in life and to govern his conduct accordingly. It isn't always easy, in fact it very seldom is; but a hundredfold reward in this world and life everlasting in the next is promised to those who persevere.

Religious Activities

Father William H. McAvoy, S.J., was this year's retreat master. His retreat series was judged by most to have been very fruitful and sometimes even somewhat entertaining.

Father Lubeley incensing the palms prior to the Palm Sunday procession. The palms were later distributed in chapel.

Father Gross preaching the sermon on opening day.

Father Kramer celebrating a Mass facing the people in the semi-public oratory.

The Eucharistic procession on Holy Thursday.

There are many opportunities here at the College to participate in the Church' liturgy. The Sunday Mass program provides sung Masses and Dialogue Masses each week. Also, daily Masses are said at six, seven, eleven, and twelve o'clock. Every evening there is Benediction of the Blessed Sacrament followed by the public recitation of the Rosary. Students are urged to attend this last service at least once weekly. The solace of the confessional is also available every evening and many of the campus priests take a turn in hearing confessions so that a large selection of confessors is possible.

Calumet Center

In July of 1960, the Calumet Center of Saint Joseph's College became the first institution to grant a four year degree in Lake County. This was the culmination of many years of hard work on the part of many who wished to see higher learning made available to the people of the Calumet area.

The accomplishment of this task not only made possible the attainment of a degree, but it also provided facilities for those seeking further education in the form of non-credit courses and lectures.

From its establishment in September, 1951, to May of 1960, the Center was conducting courses in the classrooms of Bishop Noll High School in Hammond, Indiana. On May 9, 1960, negotiations were completed which provided for the purchase of a building at 4721 Indianapolis Boulevard in East Chicago, Ind. By September of the same year, the building had been remodeled and was able to facilitate classes for the up and coming semester. This present structure also houses the library and reading room, administrative offices, faculty and counseling rooms, student lounge, art studio, and book store.

The Calumet Center is now serving over 500 students of which approximately one-fifth are full time. These students, in pursuit of a bachelor's degree are at present taking almost 4,000 credit hours of college work.
